September 1, 2011

To: Department of Transitional Assistance Staff

From:  Stephanie Brown, Assistant Commissioner for Policy, Program and External Relations

Re: SNAP: Household Misfortune Related to Hurricane Irene

Overview

Hurricane Irene passed through Massachusetts on August 28, 2011, bringing significant damage to a number of communities. Affected households who receive SNAP benefits may request replacement of food lost due to household misfortune, such as an extended power outage, a flood or an equipment failure (such as a refrigerator or freezer).

Purpose of Memo

The purpose of this memo is to remind staff of the SNAP household misfortune benefit in the wake of the recent hurricane damage to many areas of the state. The memo will remind staff of the household misfortune rules and the situations in which clients may be eligible for replacement.

Household Misfortune

The loss of food due to household misfortune requires that:

- The household reports the destruction or loss of food to the appropriate TAO within 10 days of the incident.
 - The household signs a statement attesting to the destruction or loss of food under the penalties of the SNAP Intention Program Violation (IPV) (Attachment A).
 - The Department verifies the misfortune through a collateral contact or documentation from a community agency or through a home visit.

Waiver of Third Party Verification for Certain Cities and Towns

In accordance with 106 CMR 364.900 (C)(1)(c), SNAP rules require independent verification of the misfortune. However, to reduce TAO staff's need to contact collaterals, Central Office has developed a list of cities and towns (Attachment B) that can be exempt from the requirement of verifying the misfortune through a collateral contact. The Department has been informed by utility companies across the state that the cities and towns listed on Attachment B have and in some cases continue to experience power outage.

If a SNAP client who lives in a city or town on this list requests replacement of food lost due to household misfortune, the client is not required to provide a collateral contact to verify the misfortune. Case managers may simply check the "Documentation" box on the SNAP-9B form, and write in "EPS Listing."

The Department must verify the misfortune through collateral contact or through a community agency such as the Red Cross, the Police or Fire Departments for residents of communities not listed on Attachment B.

Case Manager Responsibilities

To process a request for replacement, the case manager must:

- ensure the client has completed and signed the SNAP-9B form;
- ensure the client has reviewed and understands the penalty warnings contained on the SNAP-9B form;
- issue the replacement benefits in the Related Benefits page using the reason FSP Household Disaster if the client is eligible for household misfortune replacement benefits;
- annotate the BEACON Narrative tab with the action taken; and
- file the SNAP-9B and any further documentation in the case record.

Replacement issuances must be provided to households within 10 days after the report of loss.

If the client is determined to be ineligible for replacement benefits under household misfortune, the case manager must deny the request using an NFL-9.
