

About the Faculty

PAULINE QUIRION is the director of the CORI and Re-entry Project and lead attorney for appellate advocacy at Greater Boston Legal Services in Boston. She has been involved in precedent-setting cases in the Supreme Judicial Court and filed many amicus curiae briefs. She has received, among other awards, the Boston Bar Association John G. Brooks Award, the Massachusetts Bar Association (MBA) Community Service Award, the Massachusetts Lawyers Weekly “Top Women of Law” Circle of Excellence Award, and the Women’s Bar Association Pro Bono Award. Attorney Quirion cochairs the MBA Clemency Task Force, and previously was a cochair of the MBA Criminal Justice Reform Working Group, vice chair of the MBA Criminal Section Council, and chair of the MBA Family Law Section. She is a graduate of Northeastern University School of Law.

LISA J. BERNT is Project Director and Counsel at the Fair Employment Project. She is a Visiting Scholar at Northeastern University School of Law and an Advisory Board member and mentor at Justice Bridge, a legal incubator in Massachusetts. She recently served on the Massachusetts Commission on the Future of Work. She has also been a Visiting Fellow at the European Union Institute and a Visiting Scholar at Harvard's Kennedy School of Government. Ms. Bernt graduated from Rutgers University and the University of Michigan Law School and practiced law in Michigan and New Jersey before settling in Massachusetts. She has clerked on the New Jersey Supreme Court and served as Commission Counsel at the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination. Ms. Bernt is the author of numerous articles on workplace law and other topics in academic and practical journals.

SEAN J. CASEY

VENTURA DENNIS is a senior attorney in the CORI and Re-entry Project at Greater Boston Legal Services. She is a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association’s Criminal Justice Section Council. Ms. Dennis graduated from Boston University School of Law in 2013 with a concentration in litigation and dispute resolution. During law school, she participated in Boston University’s criminal law clinical program, where she represented clients at the Boston Municipal Court Central Division.

SUSAN HEGEL is an attorney at the Cambridge and Somerville Legal Services office of Greater Boston Legal Services. Her practice is concentrated in the area of housing law, where she primarily represents low income tenants and tenant groups. Ms. Hegel has successfully represented applicants denied subsidized housing due to CORI and tenants facing eviction or subsidy termination due to CORI. She is a graduate of Boston University School of Law and Cornell University.

AGAPI KOULOURIS is general counsel to the Massachusetts Department of Criminal Justice Information Services in Chelsea. She advises the Department's business units, the law enforcement community, members of the public, and the Criminal History Systems Board (CHSB) concerning the Criminal Offender Record Information (CORI) law and regulations. Ms. Koulouris also investigates complaints alleging improper accessing and disseminating of CORI and violations of the CHSB regulations. She is a graduate of Suffolk University Law School and Suffolk University.

SUSAN MALOUIN operates the CORI Unit at Northeast Legal Aid in Lawrence. Ms. Malouin was co-counsel on Commonwealth v. Pon, which outlined a new precedent for criminal record sealing and is a multi-year recipient of the SuperLawyers Rising Star award. She graduated from Boston University and Northeastern University School of Law and has practiced in the area of CORI law since 2012. Ms. Malouin regularly presents trainings for attorneys and community outreach on criminal record sealing and expungement in Essex and Northern Middlesex counties.